

Since 1991, Backflow Management, Inc. has offered consulting services, training and educational products to drinking water, backflow and cross connection professionals.

BMI's educational division provides certification trainings for backflow assembly testing and cross connection specialists, as well as training for confined space entry and backflow assembly repair. Classes are also offered on many topics relative to the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA). Any of BMI's classes can be customized for individual needs and can be presented at a location of your choice.

Call (800) 841-7689 or visit us online at www.bmi-backflow.com to download your free 30-day trial of our cross connection software program CT5.0.

BMI and The Part Works, Inc. have aligned our services to better assist our clients.
